Hello,

I just want to send an Email saying that I support the settlement between Microsoft and the U.S. government. It is my strong belief that those companies and individuals who are against this wish only to replace Microsoft, not to stimulate innovation. Companies like AOL, SUN Microsystems, and groups such as the Linux community all have a large stake in seeing Microsoft fail. They seek a shift in the balance of power. This is not good for our economy and it is not good for the consumer. Destroying MS only benefits a small group who will be just as bad, or worse, if they were in the same place. I think the right thing to do is to settle this and to move on.

Thanks for your time
Thomas J. Testa Jr.
